

Nancy Bocskor

Passionately, positively & effectively igniting change

About Nancy

Nancy Bocskor is an internationally distinguished expert in applied democracy. Her clientele ranges from individuals and groups in the U.S. to embassies and activists abroad. An avid advocate of female participation in leadership, politics and government, Nancy has served as a board member for academic and civic organizations focused on inspiring female leadership in the public and private sectors.

Nancy's passion for democracy has provided her with invaluable international experience. She regularly promotes democracy and public service on college campuses around the world. Nancy has coached countless emerging leaders from students, activists and non-profit organizations to foreign and domestic public officials in all 50 states and more than 20 countries. Her areas of expertise comprise of presentation skills, speech coaching, fundraising, grassroots advocacy and civic leadership training.

During the years, Nancy has received many awards for her work. In 2010, she received the "Distinguished Alumna Award" from Otterbein College for her "passion to affect change in national and international communities through significant and poignant communication, for the training and consulting with our nation's and world's political leaders, and for her commitment to educate others, especially women, around the world." She was named one of 2016's "Top 12 Women Changing the Face of Political Communications in Latin America" by the Washington Academy of Political Arts and Sciences. Most recently, Nancy was named as 2017 "Mentor of the Year" by the Public Leadership Education Network for her work to prepare college women for public service.

Since 1990, Nancy has owned the Nancy Bocskor Company, a thriving consulting firm based in Arlington, Virginia. After many years of fundraising for political candidates, Nancy now focuses her career on leadership education. During the past 27 years, she has recruited and mentored hundreds of students to become citizen activists and public servants.

About Your Path to Public Service

Studies show that the pinnacle of most women's elected leadership is in college, as sorority president or in some cases, student body president. Men, however, move home, start careers and run for office. I offer a path that women can follow that includes civic engagement, charitable causes and the ultimate goal of a potential run for office. There are 513,000 elected officials in the United States and our nation needs women participating in this citizen democracy. Women walk in with a dream and walk out with a plan with achievable steps to facilitate change in their communities.

"Your Path to Public Service" will teach your members how to achieve all of the above and even more. This training session demonstrates how to successfully run for elected office, lead in civic engagement and maximize non-profit service. Nancy has presented "Your Path to Public Service" to many groups throughout the country and around the world. While focused on political and civic engagement, Nancy's lessons and techniques can be applied to any field and will be extremely helpful for all of your members.

Contact

703.276.7488
nbocskor@gmail.com
www.nancybocskor.com
3323 N. Washington Blvd.
Arlington, VA 22201

Testimonials

"I found the missing piece to my company's statement from listening to your fabulous stories."
- Margi Helschien

"...what an inspirational, wise and compassionate woman..."
-Whitney Williams

"The work that [Nancy does] in foreign countries helping women move their nations toward democracy is incredible and inspiring."
-Coleen Penacho

"[Nancy] is truly going above and beyond in guiding and helping us."
-Jessica Reyes

